

STUDENT/FACULTY CONTRACT FOR INDEPENDENT DIRECTED STUDY COURSES

Independent study courses are for field, library, and laboratory research in Family Social Science. The topics, course content, and readings are developed under the guidance of the supervising faculty member. Research projects may include research planning, proposal writing, literature review, data collection, data analysis, data coding and/or cleaning, and research reporting. Submit completed and signed form to Nikki Wakal, waka0002@umn.edu, to receive required permission number.

Student Name _____

FSOS 2191 - Independent Study

UMN ID Number _____

FSOS 3191 - Independent Study

Faculty Evaluator _____

FSOS 4193 - Honors Capstone

Evaluator Title _____

FSOS 4191 - Independent Study

TERM: FALL Spring May Summer YEAR _____

FSOS 4294 - Research Internship

GRADING SYSTEM: A-F S-N No Grade CREDITS _____

FSOS 5193 - Directed Study

FSOS 8193 - Directed Study

Project Title

Background

Project Goals / Learning Objectives

Methods and resources to be used (e.g. books, articles, workshops)

Final Product

Results to be evaluated (e.g. written paper, presentation)

STUDENT SIGNATURE _____

DATE _____

FACULTY SIGNATURE _____

DATE _____